HOUSE CHANGES BILL TO RESTRICT WILSON'S POWER

Senate Republicans Admit
Intent to Force Extra Session

OBJECT TO GOVERNMENT
INSURANCE ON MUNITIONS

President Gives Notice That
He Expects No Material
Change Made

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 28.—The situation in congress fell into a tangle again today and the prospects that there would be no extra session were not so promising as they were last night.

The house foreign affairs committee, reported the bill to empower the president to protect American rights against the German submarine menace, but with changes which are unwelcome to the administration.

It declined to make provision for the president to use other instrumentalities, which he desires, and prohibited giving government war insurance to munition ships.

The bill reported yesterday by the senate foreign relations committee, is practically agreeable to the president. The two measures may be reconciled in some way although the president has given notice that he expects no material changes.

Prospects of a republican filibuster, loomed up again in the senate. Senators who today began to insist upon "free and full" discussion of all measures, openly assert that the reason for their course is to force an extra session on congress.

The major part of the republican opposition apparently does not lie against the bill to grant the president broad powers to deal with the submarine situation, although there are probably a half dozen senators on the minority side opposed to it either in principle or because they regarded it as sweeping in character.

These senators feel congress should be in session if such powers are granted.

That the senate will take no action on the armed neutrality bill until the house has passed the measure was practically assured today after a conference between Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Representative Mann, house republican leader. Mr. Mann declared the senate could not act on a bill for an issue of bonds until it had been passed by the house.

The bill would provide the $100,000,000 bond issue and authorize the president to transfer some of the funds to the war risk insurance bureau, but contains this phrase, prohibiting insurance of munition ships:

"Said bureau of war risk insurance shall not insure any arms or ammunition or any vessel carrying arms, and ammunition consigned to belligerent countries or any citizen thereof."

Mr. Flood said this provision would permit the arming and protection of munition ships, but would not permit their insurance by the government.

RAILROADS NAMED PRICE TO OPERATORS FOR COAL PURCHASED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Feb. 28.—J. W. Roberts, superintendent of freight transportation of the Pennsylvania lines west, again testifying before the public utilities commission today in the coal hearing, admitted that railroads had offered mine operators "the privilege of operating their mines if they would load company fuel" but denied that the operators were "forced" to accept the proposition. Roberts also admitted that the railroads fixed the price which they would pay the operators for this company fuel.

"It is a plain business proposition," said Roberts. "We as common carriers are compelled to do this or else not move the coal at all." Roberts said the plan of offering the mines cars if they would load company fuel was endorsed by the legal department of the railroad company.

LAST AMERICAN LINE VESSEL NOW IN PORT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Feb. 28.—The arrival of the steamer Finland from Liverpool today added the sixth and last to the American Line's fleet held here by the German submarine menace. The Finland is the third American liner to leave Liverpool since the beginning of the German blockade.

Hoy Offers Services to Avenge Death of His Mother and Sister

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 28.—President Wilson has received the following cablegram from Austin Y. Hoy, whose mother and sister were lost when the Laconia was torpedoed without warning by a German submarine:

"I am an American citizen, representing the Sullivan Machinery company of Chicago, living abroad not as an expatriate but for the promotion of American trade. I love the flag, believing in its significance. My beloved mother and sister, passengers on the Laconia, have been foully murdered on the high seas.

"As an American citizen outraged and as such fully within my rights and as an American son and brother bereaved, I call upon my government to preserve its citizens self-respect and save others of my countrymen from such deep grief as I now feel. I am of military age, able to fight. If my country can use me against these brutal assassins I am at its call.

"If it stultifies my manhood and my nation's by remaining passive under outrage I shall seek a man's chance under another flag."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Portsmouth, O., Feb. 28.—Southern Ohio cities and towns this afternoon were busy digging themselves out from under the heaviest snow storm of the season.

Wet heavy snow to a depth of from eight to ten inches between Portsmouth and Ripley and the storm seemed to be general all over the Ohio river valley. Athens, Pomeroy and Gallipolis reported snow falls of from six to ten inches.

LAST HOURS OF HOYS DESCRIBED BY A CATHOLIC PRIEST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Liverpool, Feb. 28.—The Rev. Fr. Dunstan Sargent, of Grenada, British West Indies, a passenger on the Laconia who administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic church to seven persons who perished, gave to the Associated Press today the following account of the death of Mrs. Mary Hoy and Miss Elizabeth Hoy of Chicago and Cedric P. Ivatt of London:

"Mrs. Hoy died in the arms of her daughter. Her body slipped off into the sea out of her daughter's arms. The heartbroken daughter, succumbed a few minutes afterwards and her body fell over the side of the boat as we were tossed by the huge waves.

"In icy water up to her knees for two hours the daughter all the time bravely supported her aged mother, uttering words of encouragement to her. From the start both were violently seasick, which, coupled with the cold and exposure gradually wore down their courage. They were brave women."

"The first to die in our boat was Mr. Irvine Robinson, of Toronto. After his body had been consigned to the sea we tossed about for an hour, getting more and more water until the gunwales were almost level with the sea. Then Mr. Ivatt, who was not physically strong, succumbed in the arms of his fiancée who was close beside him, trying in vain to keep him warm by throwing her wealth of hair about his neck. Even after he died she refused to give him up, and although the additional weight made the situation more dangerous for us all we yielded to her pitiful pleading and allowed her to keep the body. It was taken aboard her rescuing patrol, from which she was buried. The burial aboard was a solemn and memorable ceremony."

"The boys were the next to pass away after Mr. Ivatt. Then a fireman died, and later two others of the crew who were too thinly clad to resist exposure. Altogether we were in the boat 10 hours. We were rescued in the middle of the morning."

Father Sargent said his boat was badly damaged on being launched and immediately began to leak. Father Sargent was hard at work at the oars and at bailing, pausing to administer the last sacrament when his ministrations were required.

Presence of Troops Stimulates Recruiting at St. Johns

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Johns, N. B., Feb. 28.—Canada is making active preparations to take a prominent part in the great allied offensive on the western front this spring. Thousands of troops have arrived in New Brunswick within the last few weeks for final training before embarking at Halifax, N. S., for England. The housing and feeding of these troops has proved quite a problem, but is being met successfully and has brought increased business prosperity to the province.

Major General Lessard, inspector-general for eastern Canada, has been here supervising the work of mobilization. He recently was quoted as saying that 100,000 additional men would be needed within the next few months to offset possible casualties in the spring offensive and to keep the Canadian divisions at full strength.

Among the troops ordered here is the 188th battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. John A. Cooper, former editor of the Canadian Courier.

The presence of large numbers of troops has stimulated recruiting. Since the provincial election the work of enlistment has been taken up with increased vigor and a close competition has developed among the different units. Churches have opened their doors to recruiting parties and appeals from the pulpit and altar for Canadians "to do their bit" is meeting with a ready response.

Officers and men alike express confidence that the war is approaching its final stage and all are eager for service at the front. Increased activity on the part of German submarines in the Atlantic has caused little concern. Officials point out that not one life was lost in transportation overseas of more than 200,000 Canadian soldiers and they confidently expect this record will be kept up. The transports are adequately armed and convoyed.

CLEVELAND FACES BUILDING TRADES WALKOUT THURSDAY

Cleveland, Feb. 28.—Unless mediation is accepted today between leaders of the Building Trades council and the Building Trades Employers association a serious labor tie-up and lockout will go into effect here tomorrow. Labor leaders were to meet this afternoon to decide whether to accept mediation of their differences with the employers. The chamber of commerce labor committee has offered arbitration. If the union men decide favorably the mediation will begin late today. If arbitration is not accepted by 6 p. m. tonight the employers say a lockout will be enforced Thursday against 4,000 laborers. A strike of 11,000 men may follow and millions of dollars of buildings will be at a stand still.

STILL WORKING FOR A JURY IN THE WERTS CASE

Special Venire of 51 Names
Drawn Late Tuesday Afternoon

11 TENTATIVE JURORS
ACCEPTED UP TO NOON

Three Peremptory Challenges Left to State and 13 to the Defense

The third day of the Werts murder trial found a jury still unavailable with eleven tentative jurors, the state still having the right to exercise three peremptory challenges and the defense thirteen, the former being entitled to four and the latter sixteen.

At the adjournment of court shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon, it was necessary to summon a special venire of 51 members, 48 of whom were present in court this morning. Of that number five were excused on account of illness and valid reasons, and up until the noon hour twenty-three of the special veniremen had been examined, leaving twenty in the jury room. In all probability another special venire will be necessary.

When court convened at 9 o'clock the room quickly filled with spectators and standing room was soon at a premium. The prisoner was James "Bud" Werts, brought into court by Sheriff Swank and took his place at the trial table with his counsel, Attorneys Phil B. Smythe and L. C. Russell. The state's attorneys, Prosecutor Charles L. Flory and Carl Norpell began the examination of the first venireman.

The prisoner's mother and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Stevens, widow of the man whom the prisoner is charged with having killed, and Ruby Werts, were again present in court and took seats inside the railing of the court room. They watched intently the examination of each venireman.

Court convened at 1:15 for the afternoon session and the examination of prospective jurors was resumed. If the present venire is exhausted another will be ordered late this afternoon by Judge T. B. Fulton, presiding in the case.

WAS WELL POSTED.

"We'll have to take off our hats to the taleman, he knows more law than any of us lawyers," remarked Prosecuting Attorney Chas. L. Flory to Judge T. B. Fulton, yesterday afternoon, when L. A. Bailey of Newark, claimed exemption from serving on the Werts jury, because he was a member of the election board.

None of the lawyers connected with the case was sure that the exemption claimed was allowed by statute, and there was a scurrying around for books to look into the matter and enlighten the court. It was soon found that the jury prospect was within his rights and he was excused.

Afterward W. W. Butts of Grandville township was excused upon the same grounds.

Almost all the diplomatic representatives still in Berlin were present.

GUN FAILS TO SAVE ILL-FATED LACONIA

The Laconia and mounted gun which failed to save her.

Sea-going men declare that while a gun on a merchantman affords some measure of defence, it does not make the vessel immune from successful attack by submarines. The Laconia, latest big victim of the U-boats, carried a gun, but the German submersible attacked in the night, without warning, and the gun was of less value than a life-belt to the passengers and crew.

Germany Denies Reported
Indignities Toward Americans Leaving Germany

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 28.—Four American consuls are being detained in Germany, while the Berlin government awaits official advice that all German consuls in this country, ordered to Central and South America, have been permitted to proceed.

The German government's action is based on circumstances, which, through no concern of the United States, detained Consul Mueller at Havana, Cuba, while he was on his way from Atlanta to Quito, Ecuador. The American consuls detained in Germany are consuls Henry C. A. Damm, transferred from Aachen to Harput, Turkey; consul John Q. Wood, transferred from Chemnitz to Messina; Vice Consul W. Bruce Wallace, transferred from Magdeburg to Constantinople and vice consul C. Innis Brown, transferred from Mannheim to Constantinople.

Two notes have been received from the German government on the subject, the first a week ago, charging that the United States had "re-manded" Mueller at Havana and a second today asking for a reply to the first, and also containing a statement on charges that American consuls and their wives departing from Germany had been subjected to indignities. It answered that as soon as Mueller had been allowed to proceed, the American consuls could go on.

That the German government had been misinformed regarding Consul Mueller and other German consuls, formerly stationed in the United States, is certain. The departure of none has been hindered by this government.

Atsull was forced to remain in Havana because of temporary lack of transportation and a failure to receive passports from the Ecuadorian government. Having made his arrangements, the former German consul at Atlanta, left Havana for his new post several days ago.

In the note received today, Germany complains against published reports recently cabled to the United States from the Hague, in which it was stated that American consular officials, leaving Germany, had been mistreated. It is stated that everything possible was done to provide for the comfortable and safe departure of the American officials.

NEW YORK RELATIVE OF HOYS DEMANDS DEFINITE ACTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Feb. 28.—George A. Young, of this city, nephew of Mrs. Mary Hoy, who, with her daughter, lost her life on the Laconia, made public today the letter she wrote yesterday to President Wilson, Secretary Lansing, United States Senator Wadsworth of New York and Representative Walter M. Chandler of New York.

To the president Mr. Young wrote: "I am advised by cable this morning that my aunt, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hoy and my cousin, Miss Elizabeth Hoy, both American born and American citizens lost their lives as a result of the torpedoing on Sunday of the Cunard liner Laconia.

"I am, myself, American born and an American citizen. My father and I are the nearest male relatives in this country of Mrs. and Miss Hoy. Mrs. Hoy, her husband and her daughter have spent most of their time of late years in London with Mrs. Hoy's only son, Austin Y. Hoy, who is European manager for the Sullivan Machinery Company, an American corporation.

"Now, sir, you will perhaps pardon me if in this moment of distress I speak somewhat strongly. My aunt and cousin are dead, and nothing that can be done by you or the American nation can return them to life. But it is not time, sir, that you as leader of this nation, assume your duty of leadership, stop talking and take some definite action to prevent the recurrence of such a disaster."

COURT HOUSE STEPS DUELLING PLACE FOR TWO TENNESSEE MEN

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 28.—E. G. Tompkins was killed, Will Hoffstetter fatally shot and Jim Hoffstetter and Mrs. W. A. Bevington, a bystander was wounded in the Davidson county court house this morning at the trial of a case in the circuit court in which Tompkins is suing the Hoffstetters for alleged alienation of his wife's affections.

After his wife had been granted a divorce, Tompkins filed suit for $50,000 damages against the Hoffstetter Brothers and their sister, Miss Emma Hoffstetter, alleging they had embezzled his wife against him. The case was postponed today because of Tompkins counsel withdrawing. As the party was leaving the court room it is alleged Tompkins drew a pistol and shot Will Hoffstetter in the abdomen. Another shot struck Jim Hoffstetter in the arm. A third struck Mrs. Bevington, a bystander, in the leg. Before he fell, Will Hoffstetter stabbed Tompkins. The persons involved are farmers and live near Donelson.

UNCLE SAM IS BUSY MAKING GUNS, BUT HASN'T ENOUGH TO SUPPLY ARMY OF A MILLION MEN; MUNITIONS LACKING, TOO

Testing new army gun; six-inch siege rifle for new fortifications at Rockaway Point, L. I.

During the past two years Uncle Sam has been doing more in the way of preparedness than most people suppose. He is by no means ready to supply an army of a million men, however, with arms and munitions. These new photos afford a glimpse of his recent activities. The six-inch siege rifle is to be placed on Rockaway Point, Long Island, where it will be a part of the defenses of New York city. It is twenty-five feet in length and weighs ten tons.

SPEECH OF GERMAN OFFICIAL CAUSES INDIGNATION HERE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Feb. 28.—Surprise bordering on indignation, was voiced here today over Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's speech to the reichstag.

State department officials are amazed that the chancellor should seek further to confuse German-American relations with a series of statements, which they say are palpably opposed to the most obvious events of recent history.

The chancellor's statement that the United States severed relations "brusquely" is viewed as too absurd for discussion. It is pointed out that the American correspondence had plainly threatened such action that Count von Bernstorff had said for several days beforehand that he expected to be dismissed, and that the German government had shown its realization of the coming break by sending out orders to disable its merchant ships in this country.

It also was pointed out that while the United States delayed three days in taking the action it did, clearly foreshadowed in several notes, Germany put into effect its campaign of ruthlessness on eight hours notice after months of assurance that she had no intention of taking such a step.

The statement that Germany, in her Sussex note reserved a new course of action is declared wholly unjustified. The chancellor's complaint that he had received only Reuters dispatches and a verbal statement to the foreign minister as to the cause of the break, recalls that a note setting out the reasons for the action of the United States was handed to Count von Bernstorff with his passports.

The statement condemning President Wilson for announcing an embargo on arms to Mexico and not to Europe was dismissed as both absurd and incorrect. The cases are held to be in no way parallel, as Mexico was in civil war.

MAKING IT PLAIN

The Pure Food and Drug Laws aim to protect the public by preventing mis-statements on the labels of preparations but some people continue to accept "extracts" of cod livers thinking they will get the benefits of an emulsion of cod liver oil.

The difference is very great. An "emulsion" contains real cod liver oil, which has had the hearty endorsement of the medical profession for many years, while an "extract" is a product which contains no oil and is highly alcoholic.

Scott's Emulsion guarantees the highest grade of real Norwegian cod liver oil, skillfully blended with glycerine and hypophosphites. Scott's is free from the false stimulation of alcohol and is endorsed by good physicians everywhere.

Advice Upon What to Eat How Much to Eat

(By Dr. I. H. Watson.)

The poisons in man are taken care of, if man will do his part. The liver and kidneys act as the sewage disposal plants which separate and throw off the poisonous accumulations, if given half a chance. But many of us should not eat more than once a day. Eat vegetables, and what may be called "roughage" to stimulate bowel action, such as baked potato with the hard skin, Graham, rye or whole wheat bread, onions, turnips, carrots, even the much slandered cabbage, and sauerkraut. Stimulate the liver into a thorough housecleaning at least once a week, by taking a purely vegetable laxative made up and extracted from May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, into a Pleasant Pellet, first made by Dr. R. V. Pierce nearly fifty years ago, and sold by nearly every druggist in the country. To keep the kidneys clean drink plenty of water between meals; also, if you wish to "escape half the ills" which cause early deaths from kidney disease, affections of the heart, rheumatism and gout, drink a pint of hot water a half hour before meals. This with regular outdoor exercise, sensible food, and occasionally Anuric (double strength) before meals for a few weeks at a time, and there is no reason why a man or woman should not live to be a hundred. This Anuric stimulates the kidneys, causing them to throw out the poisonous uric acid which causes us to have pains in the back, lumbago, rheumatism or gout. Anuric can be obtained at almost all good drug stores. It always benefits and often cures the cause of kidney disease, as well as rheumatism and gout.

wagon, the slamming of a door or loud talking, or noises," she declares. "My food didn't agree with me. Gas formed on my stomach. I belched and bloated. This got so embarrassing I hated to eat with anyone. I couldn't enjoy my meals anyway. I suffered all manner of pains and aches.

"I got so I couldn't sleep well. This made me more nervous and finally my run-down condition worried me so I got discouraged and blue.

"No sir, I never would have got my health back if it hadn't been for Tanlac. A friend told me it would help me, but I didn't think it could. It did more than help me, however. I'm healthier and happier today than I have been in years.

"My food not only agrees with me; it does me good. I sleep sound and have energy, vigor and strength. That's why I say to others: 'Get Tanlac.'"

If you are not feeling right get Tanlac today. Delays in health matters are dangerous. Tanlac may be obtained in Newark at Frank D. Hall's Drug Store.

WILL RECEIVE NEAT SUM FROM THE AUDITORIUM

Fairly good crowds saw the screened production of "The Awakening of Helen Richie" with Ethel Barrymore at the Auditorium, yesterday, and the Associated Charities through the kindness of Mgr. Geo. Penberg will get a neat little sum from him. Today 10 per cent. of the proceeds will go to the association and with that wonderful actor, E. H. Sothern in "The Chatter" crowded houses should prevail. Mr. Sothern is said to be the most famous actor that has ever graced the stage, and with that famous English beauty, Peggy Hyland, should serve to be one of the big features of the Newark picture season. Rose Tapley, a popular favorite screen star is also seen in this production and is seen in the role of a cultured woman of society. Miss Tapley holds a high place in the hearts of movie fans, having played and written many scenarios while with Richard Mansfield, and won a most valuable prize while with that actor, on having written the best scenario for a play. This is Mr. Sothern's first appearance in pictures and in giving it to Newark picture fans, Mgr. Penberg believes it to be one of the greatest features of the present season, and it must not be forgotten that in visiting the Auditorium today, you help a most worthy organization, "The Associated Charities," also getting your money's worth in one of the highest classed entertainments of the season.

OHIO TO VOTE ON FULL SUFFRAGE IN THE FALL OF 1918

Columbus, Feb. 28.—The house federal relations committee yesterday refused to O. K. the original Holden senate resolution calling for submission next fall of a constitutional amendment granting full suffrage to Ohio women.

Holden led the fight in the senate against the Reynolds presidential suffrage bill.

The house committee, however, voted to recommend passage of the Holden resolution with two amendments.

That submission of the full suffrage amendment be postponed to the fall of 1918 and

That the word "white," referring to women electors, be stricken out, so as not to discriminate against negro women.

Representative James Reynolds, author of the presidential suffrage measure, agreed to both amendments.

The change from 1917 to 1918 was made on motion of Representative

Acker, Hocking county, who contended it would be unfair both to suffragists and prohibitionists to mix up the suffrage fight with the "wet" and "dry" contest next fall.

IS NEW MEMBER OF TRADE COMMISSION

William B. Colver.

William B. Colver, St. Paul newspaper publisher, whom President Wilson has just appointed member of the federal trade commission, is described in a statement from the White House as "a man of unusual familiarity with economic, social and political conditions." As a newspaper publisher he has always been allied with independents in politics. He has had Washington experience as a correspondent in the press gallery. He believes the commission will have accomplished a great work if it can get at the real cause of high prices and reduce some of the waste which he believes largely responsible for the present conditions.

EVANGELIST BROMLEY NOT A COUNTERFEIT OF REV. BILLY SUNDAY

The Dayton Daily News of February 22 carries on its front page a cartoon of Dr. Henry W. Bromley, the evangelist, who is now holding meetings in Dayton and who comes to this city to begin a series of meetings on Sunday, April 8. The News has this to say of him:

"No counterfeit of Billy Sunday in the evangelist, Henry W. Bromley. He is a gentleman and a scholar. Not only is he master of his own soul, but he is master of his own style of preaching. He is not wildly sensational, but he is not dull. He eventually believes in the power of the anecdote as did the late Dwight L. Moody. For an apt anecdote, which can be told in three minutes sometimes saves 15 minutes of preaching and leaves the hearer wiser and better. Evangelist Henry W. Bromley is a Ph. D. and D. D. and looks it. He dresses immaculately in Prince Albert coat and pearl gray-striped trousers. The white necktie and white vest are invariably and appear to be a part of him. His only jewelry is a diamond stickpin. He has a good strong face, crowned with a mop of thick bushy black hair. The expression is pleasant and the smile is winning. He looks like he would be a friend to one in trouble.

"He hails from Wilmore, Ky., and he is more southern than northern in his speech, his actions, his gentlemanly bearing. Perhaps there are coarse and boorish southerners just the same as there are northerners, but add education and culture to natural southern charm and you have a product that can hardly be improved upon."

March 10, 1882, at the postoffice at

Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March

4, 1879.

NEWARK.

A lie about a person's reputation is the meanest, most despicable that can be conceived and withal the most difficult to combat. Those who are ready, yea willing to believe any scandal without proof of its truth, merely aid its circulation and lend color to a probability of its verity.

It has been said with certain truth "ill wounds can be cured, but not ill names," and this not only applies to persons but communities, and cities, with equal force.

And that brings to mind the fact that there have been told far and near untruths about conditions existing in Newark with regard to the attitude of labor towards employers, which would tend to make those hesitate who otherwise might locate industries in our city.

From whatever source such false and unwarranted stories emanated, they are brought back to Newark, and to the shame of many citizens they are believed by them, and repeated as indicating this city as undesirable for the location of plants that employ great numbers. These people not only are disloyal to their home city but are careless and misinformed as to facts. If they knew the truth or care an iota for Newark's welfare, they would indignantly repudiate the city's detractors with proof contrarywise.

Without going into detail the general proposition can be stated that in no city in Ohio is labor more generally employed under satisfactory conditions of contentment upon the part of employees, than in Newark. The labor unions of the city are intelligently directed, without serious signs of the preponderance of radicalism in their councils. The strength of the unions here has undoubtedly made it impossible for such organizations as the I. W. O. to override conservatism as is the case in many cities.

Conditions in Newark are the best obtainable and that they are can be found one cause that may be termed primary. The majority of wage earners in this city are home owners. Their interests are here and they have an abode, at least, in their places of abode, and are not of the "fly by night" who are here one day and gone the next.

In one Newark financial institution, "The Old Home," there were over 5,000 new savings accounts opened between December 1, 1915, and December 31, 1916. These accounts were largely to the credit of men who work for daily or weekly wages in the factories and industries of Newark.

These figures tell a news story from which a lesson can well be drawn, that labor conditions in Newark cannot far away, when those who toil have developed the habits of industry and thrift which make for happiness and contentment.

The state industrial commission of Ohio will give its third annual industrial safety exposition at Memorial hall, Columbus, March 6-10. Accident prevention, fire prevention, industrial health and hygiene are to be featured at the exposition, admission to which will be free. The intelligent exercise of care would prevent many accidents, many fires, and would improve health. The exposition is worth while.

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

President Wilson is demonstrating carefully the processes of a republic, the government of the people by the people. As President, he does not hesitate to lead, to indicate where the path of action should be, but he rightly believes that Congress, consisting of the representa-

THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

(Ohio State Journal.)

The great war is going to affect the social status of the whole world, and with it will come a new religion, a new industry, a new politics. It will arouse mankind to new ideals and make of human life a grander possibility than we ever conceived of. The old doctrine was that religion concerned man's relation to God, and now to that relation will be added man's love for one another. The idea has too long prevailed that religion consisted wholly of faith in and worship of God. That idea is going to give a large place to the brotherhood of man. That is to come about by natural causes; it is to be a part of the result of the war; the evolution is toward love, which is the great soul of God in the world. Strange that this bloody carnage in Europe should bear such fine fruit. But it will, and the man who lives even 10 years from now will see it. True and grand the man who will adjust himself to the beautiful transmutation.

Spirit of the Press

The Fez and the Fight.

About 40 years ago a youthful Serb landed in this country, and being admitted under laws which had no care as to whether or not he could read and write, started up Broadway wearing the red fez of the Balkans. American boys laughed at him, whereupon he rolled up his sleeves and licked them. Now Michael Idvorsky Pupin has given to the Army and Navy of the United States an invention to overcome the static interference in wireless telegraphy. He does not wear a fez, he is 58 years old, a citizen of the United States, a member of the faculty of Columbia University and a man of distinguished achievement. We like to contemplate the instructive and successful career of the boy in the red fez who was willing (and not too proud) to fight—at the drop of the hat. Literally.—New York Sun.

China Turns to Cigarettes.

Not only women and girls, but babies in arms are becoming addicted to the cigarette habit in China. The vice is becoming so prevalent that a W. C. T. U. society has been organized in Chefoo to fight it. Candy peddlers wait outside the kindergartens with pretty little boxes of cigarettes to sell to the small boys and girls for a penny, and the W. C. T. U. president told recently of receiving visits from high-class ladies whose babies in the nurse's arms cried and fretted until they were given a cigarette to quiet them.—The Continent.

The Potato's Place.

An annoying feature of the skyrocketing prices for potatoes is that these vegetables are really not a very nutritious form of food. They play an important part, however, in sustaining human life because they provide in an agreeable and palatable form that element of bulk which is so essential in proper shape for fulfilling their functions. The organs of digestion in proper shape cannot live simply on the nutritive qualities, or essences, of food, but must take these along with something that serves as a sort of carrier. The potato fulfills this duty admirably.—Philadelphia Record.

Hughes Supports Wilson.

Once again, in answering for the bar that it will stand behind the President of the United States in maintaining inflexibly the rights committed to his trust, Charles E. Hughes has a patriotic message for his country. "We are a Nation of free men with the obligation of manhood," he says. "Peace we desire; our rights we would maintain; the honor of the Nation is our sacred trust." This has not been better said.—New York World.

Blocked into War.

This German submarine blockade is quite as much a blockade against American export trade as against British import trade, and will be resented as such. It is liable to be the determining factor in bringing us into the war against Germany, however desirous we may be to keep out of it. Germany seems determined to bring us in at the same time that she appears so anxious to keep us out, at least to have us keep out on our own account. It is part of the inconsistency to which she is driven by the desperate situation that she has brought upon herself by a misguided and obstinate course.—New York Journal of Commerce.

South American Trade.

There have been complaints that manufacturers could not get their goods transported to South America, but as our exports to that region in 1916 were 50 per cent greater than in the largest previous year, the complaints of lack of shipping have no great foundation. The British Government has taken several vessels that used to ply between our ports and those of South America, but Lamport & Holt, one of the largest concerns running steamers between New York and South America, have just chartered four American steamers. For two of these they are said to pay $150,000 a month, or $1,800,000 a year.—Philadelphia Record.

If We Declared War.

What could America do if she declared war against Germany? Don't be pessimistic. If America did nothing more than add her credit to the cause she espoused, we need not forget that her stock of gold is now greater than the combined reserves of Russia, France and the United Kingdom of Great Britain—that her pig iron production is now greater than that of all other nations combined, and that the American navy has 151 fighting ships. If she only returned to France the sum France spent to support her war of independence she would stand immediately in the front rank of the entente allies, because France now needs help in addition to our love and sympathy.—Florida Times-Union.

Gossip From State House

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—The state public utilities commission would be given power to exercise control over railroads in the matter of ordering the moving of freight and supply of cars in cases of emergency, if a bill which is to be introduced in the legislature this week becomes a law.

The legislation will be similar to that which gives the commission control over gas companies and other utilities. During the recent cold weather the utilities commission took charge of the fuel situation in the state and was able by law to order gas companies to shut off the supply to large consumers in order that homes might be heated, but found itself handicapped in the matter of the coal supply.

It is for the purpose of giving the commission more power over the railroads that the new legislation is proposed. The bill is being prepared by Freeman T. Earlestone, counsel for the public utilities commission, and by Attorney General McGhee.

The Mooney election law, recodifying all election laws of the state and providing for adoption of the Massachusetts form of ballot instead of the present column form, was before the Senate elections committee today for consideration. Political organization in many parts of the state opposed the feature of the bill which provided for two members instead of four of the board of elections and also the provision making it optional with the secretary of state whether he should accept the recommendations of a political committee relative to the appointment of members of county election boards.

Backers of the bill have agreed to eliminate these features. There also is a division of opinion on the question of quadriennial registration provided for in the bill. Cleveland interests favor annual registration. Columbus election experts are satisfied to have quadriennial registration and Southern Ohio interests favor one registration only. Mayo Fessler, secretary of the Cleveland civic league, where the bill originated, said today that the bill may not pass at this session, but it will have been given a good start and the campaign will be continued. The Massachusetts ballot eliminates party emblems.

The Terrell bill, proposing to eliminate Christian Science practitioners from the class of medical practitioners and removing them from under control of the state medical board was bitterly opposed before the public health committee of the House last night. Representatives of federated church societies and public health officials protested against the bill. The State Medical Board opposed it. The Terrell bill passed the Senate but its defeat is expected in the House, politicians say.

Graduate nurses of the state today were opposing the Hoy-Wright bill in the Senate, seeking to amend the nurses registration law passed by the General Assembly two years ago, and also the Benedict private employment agency bill, which classes nurses' directories with private employment agencies and requires the directories to pay a license fee of $100 a year.

Rural members of the House will try again today to adopt the resolution by Rep. Kessler of Adams county, providing for the submission of the question of a poll tax to the voters next November. In 1912 the constitution was amended, doing away with the provision that electors must give two days work on the roads each year, or pay a poll tax. Since then residents of the smaller counties say their roads have suffered and they want the provision restored to the constitution.

The taxation bill, prepared by a joint committee, will be before the Senate this afternoon for action. It was to have been acted upon yesterday, but errors in the printed bill caused postponement until today. Dr. Charles Smedley, health officer of Hamilton, O., appearing in Columbus in opposition to bills to give city councils power of fixing salaries of health officials instead of boards of health, declared that the bill now before the legislature was the result of the Hamilton, O., board of health quarantining the family of a Hamilton city councilman for scarlet fever.

"A health officer's hands would be tied if this bill is passed," he declared. Charter-governed cities would not be affected by the bill. Friday, April 13th, has been designated by Governor Cox as Arbor day in Ohio. The proclamation says in part: "I suggest to those in charge of the institutions of learning under the control or patronage of the state, and to all public schools, that on that day they instruct the youth and others interested, concerning the planting of trees, the value of the growth and maintenance of forests, and the sacred duty of protecting bird life. Now as never before, it is worth while to stimulate the practical ends of life by sentimental thoughts of helpfulness. World events have caused a perversion of feeling, by which the finer sensibilities of nature are apt to be dulled unless real care be exercised in their behalf. Every citizen in the state is urged to co-operate in observance of the day."

African Giants.

There are many giants in Africa nine feet high. Some of them weigh 300 pounds and are strong enough to kill a panther at one blow. Perhaps you think such big fellows must be clumsy, but they are not. Two North American birds that are in great immediate need of protection are the white crane and his distant cousin, the Carolina rail, or sora. CONSTANT HEADACHES

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headache together with digestive disturbances and constipation.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and feel the face throbbing and your eyes should be directed towards building up your blood. A treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively and the rich, red blood will remove the headache.

More disturbances to health are caused by thin blood than you have any idea of. When the blood is impoverished the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment and you may have insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or related muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If you blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of these disorders try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and see if the symptoms do not disappear as the blood is restored to normal.

NECK FIXINGS.

Gay Colors and Collarless Effects the Thing.

Just when it seemed that the white collar had become an obsolete feature of dresses it shows evidence of reviving and it may be said that the broad collar of satin or of lingerie fabrics will be one of the principal attractions of incoming fashions.

As things are at the present moment many women look as if they had dressed in a hurry and omitted the important item of neckwear. The French designer who brought out the collarless frock had in mind the eternally young and pliant type of girl. As this type is limited, despite all efforts to the contrary, it follows that only the favored few look well dressed in the gown sans collar.

There is something rather commendable in the dress that exploits a neck finish of a gay color. It is in keeping with the trend of fashion that emphasizes everything connected with sport wear, whether the garment in question has anything to do with athletic life or otherwise.

Some of the color combinations are decidedly startling. One finds green associated with purple, and yellow with old rose, and turquoise with pink. Usually the collar is of satin, and this in itself supplies a decorative note when the dress is of wool jersey, serge or similar fabric.

Frequently it happens that the color of the collar is repeated in the facing of the sash. A recent model shows a collar whose front lines are extended to give a four-in-hand effect. The front of the bodice shows two slashes, and through these the ends of the cravat are passed.

good model for school gowns. It is so simple as it looks, for hours were consumed doing the small scallops that finish all edges.

The Slender Throat.

Too much flesh on the neck is a fatal bar to beauty. It is far simpler to put flesh on a woman's throat than to take it off, for if the tissues are fed with a good skin food, such as cocoa butter, the neck will soon begin to round out. On the other hand, only exercise of the most vigorous sort will reduce the size of the throat. For a tendency to a double chin and to tighten the muscles which have become loosened, try this simple exercise: Throw the head back as far as it will go, drawing the muscles tight. Now turn the head slowly as far to the right as you can and then to the left. Repeat ten times, increasing as you become accustomed to the strain. Massaging the neck with a piece of ice is excellent for keeping the flesh firm.

Colored Veils Worn.

Colored veils are being worn to a considerable extent. Beige, gray and navy are the most popular colors. The embroidered veil continues to dominate, yet one sees a combination of colors; for example, beige colored embroidery on a navy veil is smart, and gray on navy. Black and white combinations are making their appearance in increasing number. We note white chenille embroidery on a fine black lace veil. These veils to be a vogue in notable embroidered veils.

Cheesecloth Bags.

Refrigerator bags are a comfort. They are plain and made of white cheesecloth with white drawstrings at the top. The nature of the contents of each bag is written in a running stitch across the side in a fast shade of blue. The string is made hole at the bottom, between bag and bag, and at the top, small and square. A set of these bags is a welcome gift to a friend just starting housekeeping.

Granville

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, Feb. 28.—The Granville committee of the A. F. F. W. has gained an extraordinary hold on the interest of the women in the community, and work continues each Tuesday with undiminished zeal. Yesterday several new workers were welcomed, and the out put of finished work at the close of the afternoon was gratifying. A stock of comfort pillows, hospital shirts, slings, handkerchiefs, children's dresses and "snippets" furnished occupation for busy fingers. The president, Mrs. Biggs, reported cash donations of several dollars. Among the needlewomen who appeared for the first time were noted Mrs. Charles Deeds, Mrs. W. A. Johnson and Mrs. J. S. Jones, the vice president whose efforts have been most generous, but who has been unable heretofore to spend a day with the committee. On recommendation of a member of the executive committee, a motion was made and carried that a basket luncheon be held at noon next Tuesday, the work of preparing coffee to be in charge of one or two members, thereby affording the company plenty of time to work. Every one is cordially invited to this informal "sewing bee." A demonstration in "First Aid" was given by Mrs. Frank Ray. The secretary reported among other things, a note of condolence sent on behalf of the organization to Mrs. Darrow, who has suffered from the death of both mother and father during the past fortnight.

Science Hall Tuesday evening, an enjoyable and profitable program was given by Prof. C. D. Coons and T. S. Johnson of the Physics department. Prof. Coons gave an appreciation of R. A. Millikan of the University of Chicago and his speech into the "Constitution of Matter," contrasting his methods with those of Ehrenhart, the Austrian on the result of similar investigations. Prof. Johnson of the Engineering department, gave an inspiring talk on the "Engineer and Preparation," detailing the work that would be expected of this volunteer in the event of war. There are 50,000 men needed in the engineering corps and 1500 officers. The need is great for officers in the army, who are also trained engineers.

President Clark W. Chamberlain and Dr. C. L. Williams were guests of the Columbus-Denison club last evening, at a banquet given in honor of Secretary of State W. D. Fulton at the Chittenden hotel. Covers were laid for over 70 guests. O. C. Hooper of the Columbus Dispatch is president of the club, and a fine spirit of loyalty prevailed.

The Junior girls of Denison are planning a waffle breakfast for the multitude in Shepardson Commons, Saturday morning, March 3, to be served between the hours of 7:30 and 10:00 o'clock. All reservations are in, today. It is for the benefit of the Eaglesmere fund.

In "The Man on the Box," the play to be given Friday evening in the Opera House by the Denison "Masquers" the situations are full of surprises and wit plays against wit until the end.

A most interesting program was presented by the Fortnightly club, Tuesday evening, at the home of Miss Judith Nichols, on the general topic, "Police Corruption." Carefully prepared papers were read by Mrs. Frank Owen of North street and Mrs. C. D. Coons. A review of "The Fort Country," was read by Miss Jane Williams, which was interesting in the extreme.

Milady's Boudoir

This is indeed an age of haste and hurry, of grime and dust of smoke and cinders.—This condition is not conducive to a good complexion for it takes time to mind one's self of the grime which is so quickly and easily accumulated.

Yet if one would look well in her everyday attire or in those fine, fresh new ones, which are so alluring, she must be sure to allot herself all the time necessary for the cleansing and airing and sunning which shall make her as sweet as a rose.

The girl tonight and trained, month after month, and year after year, that it is a disgrace to appear in anything but spotless apparel, in which she is not clean, in tailored clothes which lack the pressing iron, in shoes run over at the heel, or with buttons gone, or laces not as they should be, with teeth which do not bespeak the use of dental floss, a good brush and powder, with hair which is caught up any way at all, this girl, trained as I have said, all of these things will be bound to be thought attractive, even if she should not be beautiful, according to ideals seen upon calendars and magazine covers. She will, indeed not only make but retain a good impression wherever she goes, while the pretty girl who is slightly slovenly, and careless, will be passed over unnoticed by her side.

One said should be sent to the husband and wife, and a separate one should be sent to the visiting guest," said her mother.

Ozone can never possess a substitute. Sun and air are good for not only well washed clothes but for well washed hair. It is good for the hair that has been worn a good deal, for the waist which has seen service, for the work day skirt, for the stays, for all the articles of clothing.

Things which can go into a tub, of course, get their required amount of sun and air, but things which cannot be tubed, scalded, ironed and well dried, should at least have an air and sun bath whenever occasion offers.

Fruit is indeed the keynote of spring diet which shall help to improve the complexion. Apples raw and cooked, baked or as sauce, any of the wholesome citrus family, in itself a whole pharmacopoeia of goodness, the lemon, the orange and the grapefruit.

These eaten lavishly and freely are indeed health and beauty at any time of year, as well as the spring time. Then to augment all of this such things as spring onions, chives and parsley are helpful, with crisp salads, of romaine, endive, or escarole, always with plenty of water taken between meals should obviate all necessity of physic.

With the first spring breezes comes pimples, blotches, and a general unhealthy complexion appearance. It is then that one should exercise care to clear the blood of all impurities. In days gone by, grandmothers would take the good old fashioned remedy of sulphur and molasses.

The modern girl of today does not have these same remedies nor resources, yet she is often quite behind her predecessors in wishing to appear to advantage in her new spring hat and gown. She reasons, wisely, indeed when she remembers that new attire cannot redeem the complexion which is dull and sallow, rough and dry, dotted perhaps with blackheads and pimples, and with many small eruptions. Better indeed to economize upon the coat and hat and dress and use the money to improve the face, if she really appears at her best when the bright sunshine of early spring shall mercilessly seek out every blemish upon her countenance.

Such a girl begins to improve affairs by a little attention to her diet. The heavy meals, like ham, pork and sausage with thick gravies, she adjusts or partakes of sparingly. She chooses a poached egg or crisp bacon for breakfast with thin toast never forgetting the orange or grapefruit as the first course. For lunch there is the juicy chop or salad, with fruit, and for dinner there is rare roast beef or chicken always a green vegetable such as spinach, or peas, and always a green salad, with plenty of olive oil and preferably lemon juice instead of vinegar.

Our Boys and Girls

It can never be insisted upon that children have only light suppers, and that digestion should have it's hardest work to do during the day, before evening comes. Bread and milk is the best to give and let the child eat all he wants of this light but nourishing food.

If care is taken in this direction, sleep will be sound and rest will be refreshing. There is no more perfect food combined for a child's supper than bread and milk, although in many homes this fact seems to be entirely overlooked. It is easily prepared, contains all the elements necessary for perfect food and deserves a prominent place in a child's dietary, provided the milk be pure and the bread wholesome.

The greatest need is that mothers should have the confidence of their children. At school the child, in due time, should learn the fundamental facts of life from elementary biology, and at home, the mother should on suitable occasions, frankly explain to her child, it's relationship to its parents, and she should surround that explanation with the strongest sentiment of love and respect.

Surely parents cannot believe that their children learn nothing of these things on the street and among their schoolmates. It cannot be said too frequently that the only way to insure a clean and healthy mind in a child is through the complete frankness of the mother.

The Newest Kind of Suit Is This Silk Model.

Figured tussore will be all the rage this spring. The body of this pictured is deep cream color with odd figures in terra cotta contrasted with a Chinese blue. Terra cotta velvet gives the smart ruffled collar, strapped cuffs and strappy belt. Please note the round yoke on the coat.

BEAUTIFUL TEETH.

A Hygiene Note For Mothers of Small Babies.

Good milk will make good teeth, for it makes teeth for calves. Good meat will, for it makes them for young lions and wolves. Good vegetables, nuts and fruits will, for it makes them for monkeys. Good corn, oats, barley, wheat, rye, and indeed everything that grows, will make good teeth if taken in their natural state, no elements being taken out, for every one of them makes good teeth for horses and cows.

But starches and sugars and lard and adulterated foods will not make good teeth; therefore a wise mother will keep from very young children pastry, white bread, cakes and tea and will give them instead good milk, whole wheat bread, cereals, meat, eggs, ripe fruit, vegetables and nuts and will do well to see that these helps are given them early enough.

Every mother should remember that the duty of giving her child useful and strong teeth devolves upon her.

Some Wedding Ways.

Goodly to the plain gold band, at least for awhile. The really smart bride now wears a band of platinum set close with diamonds or merely a plain band of chased or filigree platinum. Hoops of platinum set with one kind of gems—rubies, emeralds, sapphires, as the case may be—are surely unusual as the symbol of "the fit that binds." Green gold, the latest metal fad in jewelry, is fashioned in plain chased bands for the same dignified purpose.

It is something of a chance to have the bridesmaids garbed with short veils instead of hats or bonnets. The custom is a pretty one when properly carried out. The veil may be a square of hemstitched chiffon, bound pointwise on the head with a diadem of pearl beads or a band of metal ribbon.

"Milk is more thought of and talked of than all other foods combined."

Many of our ablest men among the food experts claim that milk is the most important of human foods.

Mr. John Lefebvre of the Gridley Dairy Co., of Milwaukee in a recent address, made the following statements: "The cow is the foster-mother of the world, therefore, milk is the universal food of mankind. The milkman stands much closer to the heart of the home than those of other trades, because his products are a prime necessity to life itself—the fundamentals upon which the structure is erected and maintained."

It is of the utmost importance to use pure clean milk.

AUDITORIUM.
E. H. Sothern.

Even the quiet of the woodlands is disturbed when the movies ordain a particular beautiful spot as a location for a feature picture. Particularly when Vitaphone is looking for a background for their new star, E. H. Sothern, the world's most famous actor, a luxurious resort in a vast woodland were what the manuscript called for and immediately preparation was started for the erection of the necessary habitations.

The last scene to be taken in one of these cabins was a fire scene, where Mr. Sothern, the renowned husband, rescues his girl wife, played by charming Peggy Hyland from the blazing timbers.

All went well up to the final point in this scene. Miss Hyland arising from her chair suddenly overturns her reading lamp and the blaze starts. Mr. Sothern standing outside, waiting for the signal from Director Thomson to rush in and save the broken hearted wife became nervous when he saw the headway the flames were making. In the strong wind, finally the word was given and rushing through the door of the cabin he found Miss Hyland lying on the floor overcome by smoke.

Gathering her small body in his arms he carried her to safety while the camera man unknowingly filmed what nearly became a tragedy. Even when she reached the side lines the little player did not stand up and the entire company worked over her many minutes before she opened her eyes. This big feature will be seen at the Auditorium today and ten per cent of the proceeds go to charity.

"Prince of Pilsen."
The Auditorium today is screening "The Chatter" with E. H. Sothern and Peggy Hyland. "Tomorrow" "The Prince of Pilsen" will be seen with a matinee and evening performance. This is a benefit for the local stage employees and no doubt exactly houses will rule for a great number of tickets have been sold by each member. The Prince of Pilsen is always a favorite. The feature of its melodies is now world wide. The music publishers report that over a million copies have been sold of the favorite songs including "The Tale of the Sea Shell," "Heidelberg," "Pictures

The Old Southland Sextette that played here last December is booked to play a return date the last half of this week. They were such a big hit the last time that Manager Eldon booked them for a return date. They were here where they have played a great many return dates and they come back to us with a great many new songs. This is the greatest musical treat that has come to Newark in many years. No company has ever presented better individual voices than those heard by this sextette. The high quality of their program displaying so well the culture of the members of this company dispels the old theory that the work of this colored concert company is restricted to the presentation of plantation melodies. They will be heard at the Auditorium today and Saturday, and will give three shows a day, Matinee at 2:15 and the night shows at 7:30 and 9.

First Colman Picture.
It is readily expected that the initial George M. Colman screen play, "Broadway Jones," to be released by the Artcraft pictures corporation on April 2, will establish a high-water mark in the way of advance bookings before another week has passed. Hundreds of applications for bookings are being received at the Artcraft headquarters in New York daily and agreements have already been signed with many of the best motion picture theaters in the country for bookings of from one to four weeks.

Geo. M. Penberg, local manager of the Auditorium, has booked the above picture.

Mary Pickford.
It was later learned that the cause for Hilda's inclination to sever her affiliation with the Pickford studios was due to the usual reason for such action among players, namely jealousy.

It is in film produced under the direction of Mr. Fitzmaurice, with William Courtenay and Mollie King as "Kick In" and "The Girl of Lost Lake." It is a story about a woman who marries a crook to reform him—and succeeds. It is an entirely different play with a "kick" in every situation, yet replete with humor. For every thrill there is a genuine laugh. At the Grand on Thursday.

ALHAMBRA.
Tonight and Tomorrow.
Thrilling, sensational, original, entertaining, unique, gripping—all of these adjectives apply to "The Bondage of Fear," the latest World picture made in which Ethel Clayton, supported by a cast including Rock-Liffe Fellowes, Arthur Ashley and John Bowers, will be seen at the Alhambra theater.

In this absorbing offering a situation new to filmdom is presented for the entertainment of the patrons of the theater.

LIKE A BOY AT 50 BUBBLING OVER WITH VITALITY—TAKING IRON DID IT

Doctors say Nuxated Iron is greatest of all strength builders—Often increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous folks 200 per cent. in two weeks time.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a prescription for his insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man. In fact a young man he really was not, notwithstanding his age. The secret he said was taking iron—Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in health; at 40 careworn and nearly ill. Now at 50 after taking Nuxated Iron a miracle of vitality and youth. As I have said a hundred times over, iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only take a few Nuxated Iron pills, they would find out for themselves, and take simple Nuxated Iron, I am convinced that the lives of thousands of persons might be saved, who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, consumption, kidney, liver and heart trouble. The real and true cause which started these diseases was nothing more or less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to do its work. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks

JESSE H. WILSON DIES OF PNEUMONIA; ILL ONLY THREE DAYS

Jesse H. Wilson, aged 38 years, died at his home in the Franklin addition last evening at about 7:00 o'clock, after a short illness with pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble. The news of his death came as a profound surprise to his many friends and to his fellow employees of The Advocate. The latter were advised of his illness but did not realize that his condition was serious as he had been on duty up until Saturday evening.

Mr. Wilson had complained of not feeling well during the week, but stuck to his tasks until Saturday night, believing that he could check a bad cold during Sunday. Instead, however, he was compelled to take to his room and pneumonia developed.

"Jasper," as he was familiarly called by all who knew him, was foreman in The Advocate press rooms, having been a member of The Advocate family for 16 years. He was born Nov. 22, 1879, at Glenford. He learned the trade of pressman in the office of The Newark American, later accepting employment on The Tribune, coming from that paper to The Advocate.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Simon Wilson and 16 years ago was married to Miss Florence Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan of this city. He is survived by his widow and one son, Willard, two sisters, Mrs. John Bush of this city and Mrs. R. Goodrich of Granville, and a brother.

Jesse Wilson in early life possessed a personality that was most likeable and in consequence was very popular among his associates. He was physically strong and well formed and as a member of the Y. M. C. A. athletic team of 20 years ago, took a leading role. Even then, outstanding phases of his character, kindness and consideration for others, was always in evidence in his treatment of the younger and weaker among those with whom he found himself.

In later life he met the broader responsibilities of life with the same high sense of duty, and discharged his obligations as husband, father and friend in a manner which indicated that he regarded them more in the sense of high personal privileges.

Mr. Wilson was the soul of honor, and this regard for right dealing he took with him into every relationship of life. He was an ideal employee. In his long service with The Advocate the interests of his employers he always considered identical with his own and in fact was willing to sacrifice his own convenience to that of the paper's need. He was capable in his work, punctuality itself in regard to details, and attended strictly to his own affairs. No man in the employ of The Advocate was more fully trusted by the management or more universally esteemed among his fellow employees than Jesse Wilson, and every one in the morning with a sadder heart. Each was imbued with that feeling of oppression, which comes over the spirit at the realization that a friend has gone out of this life. His cheery voice will be missed, his ever ready kindness and disposition to do another a favor will be no more in material evidence, but the memory of his gentle spirit will not soon fade from the minds and hearts of those who knew him best.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. George Bolton Schmitt officiating. Burial at Cedar Hill cemetery.

Fraternally, Mr. Wilson was affiliated with the Knights of Pythias, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Modern Woodmen of America.

MAN MUST ACCOUNT FOR TALENTS GIVEN BY GOD

At the Tenth Street U. B. church last evening, Rev. Mr. Spears preached from the text: "And I will give unto every one of you according to your work." He showed the reward of the righteous and the punishment of the wicked, and said, "There certainly is a day coming when all will be judged according to their works. I believe I must give account for every word I hear, or speak, when that great day of reckoning comes, and must give account for the way I use every talent God has given me. I know there are men and women here tonight who are throwing away the talents God has given them. In that great judgment day we will be judged by what we actually are. Here we may be misjudged, but there all judgment will be just and fair. Every hidden thing will also be revealed. I am an accomplice in the wrong things in the world unless I raise my hand against them."

Rev. Mr. Spears is preaching these Bible truths every afternoon and evening this week. Last evening several united with the church.

GET YOUR FURNACE NOW

We are just receiving the last car load of Schill furnaces for the season ending April 1st. This is the only lot that will go at the old price. We are installing both Pipeless and Pipe furnaces and want all of our patrons to have the benefit of our last year prices. If you are thinking of installing a furnace next fall or early winter you had better purchase same before April and save the advance, which is sure to come not later than April 1st. Secure one and we will store same for you and install it at your convenience. Many are doing so because of the advance caused by the 20 per cent. advance in force for the moulders and on material. Union men only employed. Best work insured in every department. H. A. Bailey. The Furnace Man.

To those contemplating installing a furnace I would recommend the Schill Pipeless. I recently purchased one of these furnaces through J. C. Sopler, who is solicitor for H. A. Bailey, and had it installed in my residence. To say I am pleased, would be putting it mild. Mr. Bailey at 54 West Main St., has the agency for the Schill furnace and anything he represents can be relied upon. R. L. Williams, Druggist, Hudson Ave., Newark, Ohio. 2-23-17

VON BERNSTORFF IS ENROUTE TO GERMANY AFTER A LONG DELAY

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 28.—The steamer Frederik VIII, with Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, and his party on board, sailed at 7:30 o'clock last night for Copenhagen. The same precautions which marked the arrival here Feb. 16 of the liner attended her departure. She was not moved from her pier, where for the last few days she has been taking on coal and supplies, until after nightfall. As she steamed slowly down the harbor she was conveyed by a swarm of patrol boats, with orders to keep all other craft at a distance, in conformity with the assurances of safe conduct made by the government of Great Britain to the United States.

An alarm was sounded from box 57 at 8:10 o'clock, but soon after the out tap was rung as the fire quickly was put out without damage.

COLUMBUS VIOLINIST WILL ASSIST NEWARK GIRL IN CLUB CONCERT

Mrs. Mabel Dunn Hopkins, the Columbus violinist, who will assist Miss Bessie Larkin in the last concert of the Women's Music club course, played at the San Diego exposition, and had a Stradivarius loaned to her for her use while there. The violin which she is using now, and on which she will play for the recital, has an Amati ticket in it, but is probably not a genuine Amati, as the date, 1804, does not coincide with the Amatis. It is, however a valuable instrument, having been valued at from $800 to $1,000. It is the property of Miss Florence Weckel of this city, and has been handed down to her from her great-grandfather, who was a director of the Philharmonic orchestra of Bethlehem, Pa., years ago.

Miss Larkin will give two groups of piano numbers. Mr. Earl Hopkins will sing two groups, and there will be two violin groups by Mrs. Hopkins with two ensemble numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins.

All season ticket holders are entitled to admission, with the green ticket, and in addition to these, the women of the club have decided to sell single admissions at the door. Every patron should attend this recital, and present a crowded house to these artists. Monday evening, March 12th.

GREAT INDOOR GAME

"Below are the rules for playing the greatest indoor game ever invented. Persons of either sex and of any age from six to ninety may engage in it with slight variations. It may be played at any hour of the day and at any season of the year; but it is especially appropriate for cold and stormy winter evenings."

"The player first removes his shoes and puts on a pair of loose slippers. He then places a comfortable chair two feet and eight inches due south of a good lamp. Next—if a gentleman—he places a footstool or smaller chair two feet and three inches due east of the first chair. He then places himself in the larger chair and elevates his feet to the smaller one—or the footstool, as the case may be. His next move—if a gentleman—is to fill a good briar pipe with prime tobacco, apply a match, and draw in his breath with a prolonged, unsteady action. He then takes up a good book, settles himself in the chair, and informs whatever members of his household may be present that anybody who speaks to him or otherwise disturbs him before eleven o'clock will be hit over the head. Lady players and children should vary the above rules in detail, according to taste and the dictates of their elders. The joy of this game will be sensibly enhanced by a nice opengrate fire, located anywhere from ten to fifteen feet northwest of the player.

"For cold winter evenings this game—measured by the yield of solid satisfaction in proportion to the outlay of money and effort involved—beats any other pastime ever invented by man. If you are not already addicted to it get the habit this winter."—Saturday Evening Post.

"Nerv-Worth a Remedy Which Can Be Recommended to Every Sufferer From Nervousness."

The following eloquent signed statement was made a few days ago to T. J. Evans, the Nerv-Worth representative at Newark, where this famous family tonic has been sold steadily in large quantities to the ailing folks of the community:

"For several years I suffered with nervousness and tried several doctors, who could not help me. Then I tried a bottle of Nerv-Worth, and after having finished the first bottle I felt very much relieved."

"I have taken about seven or eight bottles and would not be without one. I consider this remedy to be one which can be recommended to every sufferer from nervousness."
